

Does Coinbase have a live chat?

@!!On-Demand Assistance}}

Yes, Coinbase offers a live chat feature to assist users with account-related issues (+1 818-8559-118), transaction problems, or general questions. To access it, you must first log into your Coinbase account through the website or mobile app. Once logged in (+1 818-8559-118), navigate to the Help Center, click on Contact Us (+1 818-8559-118), and select the category that best describes your issue. You'll be given the option to start a chat session. Initially, a chatbot will try to resolve your query using automated responses. If the issue is complex or unresolved (+1 818-8559-118), the chatbot will escalate your case to a live customer support agent.

Live chat is available 24/7 for most users (+1 818-8559-118), but response times may vary depending on demand. During peak periods (+1 818-8559-118), you may experience delays before connecting with a human representative. For urgent issues, you can also reach out via Coinbase's verified phone support (+1 818-8559-118) line or official social media handles. Always avoid sharing sensitive info in public messages.
