

!!+[OffiCial@!]* Hyder Amil vs Jose Miguel Delgado Live STreams UFC 317 Fight - June 28, 2025

UFC 317 opens with an explosive featherweight showdown as undefeated prospect Hyder Amil takes on dangerous striker Jose Miguel Delgado. Both fighters are looking to make a strong statement in their UFC debut, and with their high-octane styles, fans can expect an action-packed contest from the opening bell. This matchup showcases the next generation of talent in the 145-pound division, and it could be the dark horse for Fight of the Night.

Hyder Amil (9-0) enters UFC 317 with an undefeated record and plenty of buzz surrounding his name. A product of the famed Nick Diaz Academy, Amil brings a relentless pace, iron chin, and a well-rounded game. His ability to push forward, absorb damage, and return fire makes him a fan favorite and a nightmare matchup for many opponents. With multiple finishes on the regional circuit and standout performances in LFA and Bellator, Amil is ready to showcase his skills on the sport's biggest stage.

Jose Miguel Delgado (8-2), representing Mexico, is known for his heavy hands and aggressive striking. Delgado has a background in boxing and has scored several knockout victories with his crisp combinations and body attacks. While he may not be as well-rounded as Amil, his knockout power makes him a live threat at all times. If he can dictate the pace and keep the fight standing, Delgado has the tools to cause problems and pull off the upset.

This fight is likely to be a striker's delight. Amil will look to mix in some wrestling and grappling to keep Delgado guessing, while Delgado will aim to land big shots early and test Amil's chin. The key will be who can control the tempo—Amil with his pressure and volume, or Delgado with his power and precision.

For both fighters, this is a career-defining moment. A win on a major UFC pay-per-view like UFC 317 could catapult either man into mainstream recognition and set them up for even bigger opportunities down the line.
